

At Compass, service is at the heart of everything we do.

That spirit of service inspired Compass Cares, our national philanthropy program that empowers Compass real estate professionals and employees to give back to the local communities we serve.

Integrated directly into the Compass platform, Compass Cares makes it easy for real estate professionals to give back through every transaction. Since launching Compass Cares in 2018, we have contributed millions of dollars in charitable giving and thousands of service hours to the places we call home.

“Service has always been a hyper-local industry and Compass Cares reflects that. Because our real estate professionals are deeply rooted in their communities, they understand the local needs of their communities and are uniquely positioned to give back where it matters most.”
